

Learning Brooke

Respecting the wonder of early childhood.

“They truly prepared my child for her future as a student.”

Amy Ryan

Inspiring a sense of personal pride.

It's human nature to want to feel your work is worthwhile. The same goes for children. That's why we build secure online portfolios to continually document and display the unique journey of each Learning Brooke student.

This evolving portfolio enables families, students and teachers to share the journey as it unfolds. It is something your child can use to revisit and expand upon the knowledge he or she constructs. It also helps create a community of respect and acceptance among our students for each other's thoughts, feelings and ideas.

“What an exciting, empowering environment for children.”

Allison Abramson

Enriching experiences for infants through school-age.

A child can often learn as much from a passing butterfly as from a planned lesson. Both indoors and out, the fresh, interactive environment at Learning Brooke supports and honors the work of the children.

With a curriculum approach based in research and knowledge, Learning Brooke offers a variety of programs to foster learning in fun, meaningful and interactive ways. These programs support and enhance learning through individual discovery and social hands-on experiences.

“I appreciate how parents are welcomed and encouraged to contribute.”

Charlotte Taylor

Infant

Young Toddler

Older Toddler

Preschool

Prekindergarten

Full-Day Kindergarten

Before &
After School
Grades K-5

Summer Camp

Innovative and exceptional educators.

Think about how much time your child will spend at the school you select. At Learning Brooke, caring teachers will partner with you to challenge and inspire your child to develop a true sense of purpose and individuality. And they're readily available to share ideas and advice with you along the way.

A close-up photograph of dandelion seeds in flight, with some seeds in sharp focus and others blurred in the background, creating a sense of movement and lightness. The seeds are dark brown and have a feathery, white structure.

“We see all ideas
as opportunities.”

Brooke L. Brown
Owner & Founder

Turning natural curiosities into a lifetime of discovery.

In today’s rapidly changing world, it’s not enough to simply know things. You need a resourceful mind, and the confidence to keep facing the next challenge.

At Learning Brooke, young children are encouraged to become lifelong learners – as they grow into confident, resourceful and caring human beings. Since our teachers have the freedom to follow the children’s instincts, ideas and interests, learning actually becomes second nature.

We invite you to learn more.

For a more detailed look at Learning Brooke – including an interactive floor-plan of our facility – visit our website today. Better yet, call us to arrange a guided tour.

When the joy of learning is discovered, resourceful minds begin to take shape. We're here to provide children with explorations that will guide them for a lifetime.

learningbrooke.com

401.941.3705

info@learningbrooke.com

1170 Pontiac Avenue, Suite 200
Cranston, RI 02920

Highly secure with state-of-the-art technology, Learning Brooke is centrally located off Route 37 with easy access from I-95 and I-295.

